Election Postponements

Building Energy Efficiency Support Service available for community groups

A support service for community groups and not for profit organisations on how they can make their buildings more energy efficient and, in the long term, help to reduce their energy bills is still available.

Arthian, who were appointed to undertake this service, will provide their support in four stages:

1. An initial conversation via phone call or Teams meeting will take place to understand more about the level of support required;
2. A site visit will be undertaken to inspect the building;
3. A bespoke report will be produced, outlining the findings, to highlight what could be done to make the building more energy efficient;
4. A follow up conversation will be scheduled with the community organisation to review the findings of the report, answer any queries and clarify next steps.

The service will be available until the middle of March 2026. If you know any community organisations that would be interested in this service, then please contact climatechange@testvalley.gov.uk.

Council to explore landscape protection potential for Test Valley chalk streams

Test Valley Borough Council is going to investigate whether Test Valley's chalk streams could become a National Landscape, previously known as an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty.

Early feasibility work will help the local authority understand whether areas might be suitable for designation.

The work will focus on protecting the River Test, its tributaries and other chalk streams across Test Valley and beyond.

A National Landscape designation is made by Natural England and is one of the highest forms of landscape protection in the country. It recognises the natural, cultural and historic importance of an area and helps protect places from pressures such as climate change and habitat loss.

Councillor Stewart MacDonald, portfolio holder for community led projects, said: "We're proud of Test Valley's natural beauty and we know how important it is to local people. The rolling chalk hills, ancient woodlands, historic villages and the River Test create a landscape rich in wildlife, heritage and character. These qualities make the area distinctive and valued by residents, visitors and communities across the region.

"While achieving National Landscape status isn't easy, we believe this is worth pursuing, and it would also be worth knowing what other avenues could be explored to make sure it's protected for the future. It would help safeguard what makes our borough special, while supporting the needs of our communities."

Councillor Alison Johnston, portfolio holder for climate emergency and countryside, added: "Protecting our chalk streams has been a priority for Test Valley Borough Council for many years and if we can achieve this status it would be a game-changer, giving stronger protection to this unique ecosystem."

Parks and Countryside Events and Activities

Events range from nature discovery days and bat walks, to opportunities to learn new skills by volunteering, to helping with the management of local nature reserves and wildlife sites. This includes coppicing, pond maintenance, vegetation control and more, to encourage everyone to get out and enjoy the great outdoors.

The south of the borough includes Valley Park Woodlands, Tadburn Meadows and Abbotswood Nature Reserves. The guide for the south of the borough has been compiled with local groups including Tadburn Conservation Volunteers, Friends of the Parks, and Wilder Romsey.

Tadburn Meadows Local Nature Reserve,

Hidden amongst the houses, Tadburn Meadows covers almost 12 acres and provides a home for a variety of Britain's best loved wildlife and some nationally threatened species. The site boasts a variety of habitats, from a stream more characteristic of the New Forest, to wet woodland and grassland.

Abbotswood Local Nature Reserve

Abbotswood Local Nature Reserve, located adjacent to the Abbotswood development, has been designated primarily due to the presence of great crested newts, a European protected species. The site contains a host of interesting habitats, including wetlands, ancient semi- natural woodland and grassland. These support a wealth of wildlife. The site also boasts veteran oak trees, estimated to be over 300 years old and each a home to hundreds of other species, making them a hugely important part of the site.

Valley Park Woodlands Local Nature Reserve

Comprising ancient woodland with a mixture of woodland rides, open glades, ponds and rough wildlife as well as archaeology the woodland is home to a variety of species including pipistrelle bats, roe deer and a host of insects and plant life. The site is thought to be derived from the historic Baddesley Common complex and has close characteristics with the New Forest. It also boasts the remnants of an Iron Age enclosure and associated features.

Come and join volunteers to help with the on-going programme of events. New volunteers, including families, are always welcome to help. See dates and tasks below.
